CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1933, twelve students entered as primary students in the Osnabrock School under the direction of Evelyn Jolliffe, of Rolla. Members of the class were Betty Jean Smith, Vivian Lundebly, Ila Olson, Richard Flink, Laurence Ritter, Joseph Brezina, Leonard Delvo, Vivian Klai, Norman Mikkelsen, Harley Nelson and Ella Rourke.

Margaret Anne LePire joined the class while in the second grade, entering from St. Anthony's School in Fargo. Miss Opyl Karhoff of Douglas, (now Mrs. Donald French of Osnabrock) was the instructor.

Entering during the third term was Betty Fahnlander from an Esby township school. Ostaalynne Wagle, of Valley City (now Mrs. John Ottem of Osnabrock) was the instructor during the third and fourth grades.

Jean McMillan of Hamilton, (now Mrs. James Wedwick) took over her duties as the fifth and sixth grade teacher.

Our class roll, decreased in the seventh grade, when Laurence Ritter passed away in May of that year. The seventh grade teacher was Morten Olson of Vang, followed by Jean Johnston of Crystal in the eighth grade.

Graduating from the eighth grade was: Warren Ward, Wendell Coles, Richard Flink, Betty Jean Smith, Vivian Lundebly, Margaret LePire, Ella Rourke, DeLorace Baker, Ila Olson, and Betty Fahnlander.

Upon entering high school W. Dyce Millard, Don G. Sitzler, and Esther Wisnaes comprised the faculty. The freshmen class roll included Wendell Coles, Ila Olson, Vivian Lundebly, Richard Flink, Orrin Rourke, Bob Balsdon, Marion Vleck, Betty Fahnlander, Ella Rourke, Betty Jean Smith, Margaret LePire, Alice Pearson, and Warren Ward. Jean M. Salisbury and Jean Casement were also faculty members during our years in high school.

CLASS WILL

We the class of 1940 do hereby bequeath to our lawful successors all our virtues and vices accumulated during these four stormy years.

Richard Flink bequeaths his Percy Vam (Skyler) vocabulary to Pinky Shuley. Here's hoping it will help him in polishing the apple so his teachers won't flunk him.

Margaret Anne gladly wills her nine o'clock or after habit of arriving at school to Elizabeth Kram. Well anyway, the old motto is "Better late than never," so cheer up, everybody!

Scotty Ward wills his stellar basketball ability and his A-1 personality to Peter Hanson. It might give future Orioles a championship!

Orrin Rourke wills his sedate and perfect conduct to Walter Vleck--he can make better use of it than anybody.

Vivian Lundebly leaves her "Swing and Sway with Sammy Kay" dancing ability to Bernice Flink.

Ella Rourke gives all her secrets in the art of cookery to Marjorie Nelson--no more baking failures for you Marjorie, and remember the way to a man's heart is through his stomach.

Bob Balsdon bequeaths his everlasting supply of Spearmint gum to Alice Rusten, and here's hoping it don't break you because of the fines you'll pay when caught.

Ila Olson wills her poetic and writing ability to the future Journalism classes in hopes that they can capture honors in future N. I. P. A. contests.

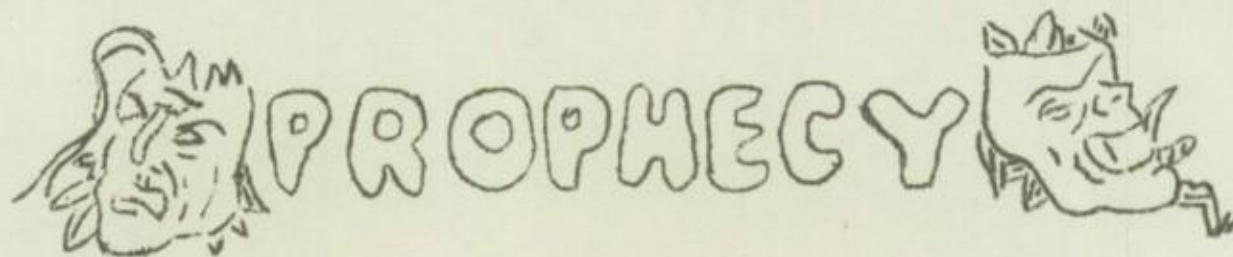

Betty Jean Smith wills her laughing along with vim, vigor and vitality to Lois Wedwick in hope that there will be more pep in the old school.

Skinny Coles leaves his stick-to-it-ive-ness--(By this we mean inability to change his mind once it is made up) to the Twins. You see, he has enough for two.

Marion wills her great ambition to "Never Study" Vollum knowing that it will help him to reach great heights.

Alice Pearson passes on her athletic talents, and agrees it is a good way to reduce weight.

Class of 40

PROPHECY

I gaze into my crystal bowl, and I see before me the graduating class of 1940 in their positions.

A vision appears and I see Skinny Coles and Bob Baldson decked out in white aviation suit. They now hold a record greater than that of Lindbergh.

Next I visualize the office of Macy's store in New York, where we find Marion, Vivian, Ella and Alice at their stenographic duties.

The Ford plant looms up before me, and Orrin and Richard are employed in the mechanical division. They have acclaimed nation-wide fame with their new invention.

Margaret Anne is teaching the primary department in George Washington School in Washington, D. C., with fifty pupils receiving her attention.

Let's scan the sport page of the "Oregon Times". We read, "Warren Ward, graduate of Oregon State is the coach of the California Bombers, who were recently awarded the Intercollegiate Basketball trophy for the season."

Entering the White House, we find it undergoing complete renovation and redecoration. Artistically draping velours and supervising color schemes, we see Betty Jean, our artist minded classmate.

Quietness prevails, the smell of medicine greets us, as we enter the clinic at Rochester, where Betty Fahnlander, attired in a stiff white uniform is administering an anaesthetic to her patient.

We turn on the radio, and Blue Baron's orchestra announces a new song hit, that has just made its debut, the writer is none other than our class poet, Ila Olson.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

On September 13, 1937, seventeen "Green Fresh-ies" with pencil, paper and books in hand enrolled in the Osnabrock High School. The roll call found the following present: Vivian Klai, Bill Fahnländer, Marjorie Nelson, Harley Nelson, Walter Vleck, Stanley Olson, Arthur Monson, Wendell Johnson, Ordean Tollefson, Joseph Brezina, Willard Christensen, Melvin Gustafson, Ila Cantelon, Lorene Johnson, Dorothy Rourke, Nadine Flom, and Leonard Delvo. Under the direction of W. Dyce Millard, Don G. Sitzler, and Esther Wisnaes, we began the seemingly long journey through high school.

The class membership was decreased the following year when Ila Cantelon, Leonard Delvo, Dorothy Rourke, Melvin Gustafson, and Nadine Flom discontinued their courses at Osnabrock High School.

The outstanding activities of our junior year were the Class Play and the publication of "Student News."

ADPHOMORIES

FRONT ROW--Avis Rasmusson, Margaret Vleck, Clarette Lundebly, Betty Jo Delvo, Mary Rachel Delvo, Doris Dahl, John Hewitson.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

When this year's Sophomores began their high school career in 1939, there were fifteen of them. They elected as their class officers:

Pres.....Betty Jo Delvo
V. Pres.....Richard Evenson
Sec.-Treas...Merrill Tollefson

They went through the regular routine of freshmen and weathered the storm favorably.

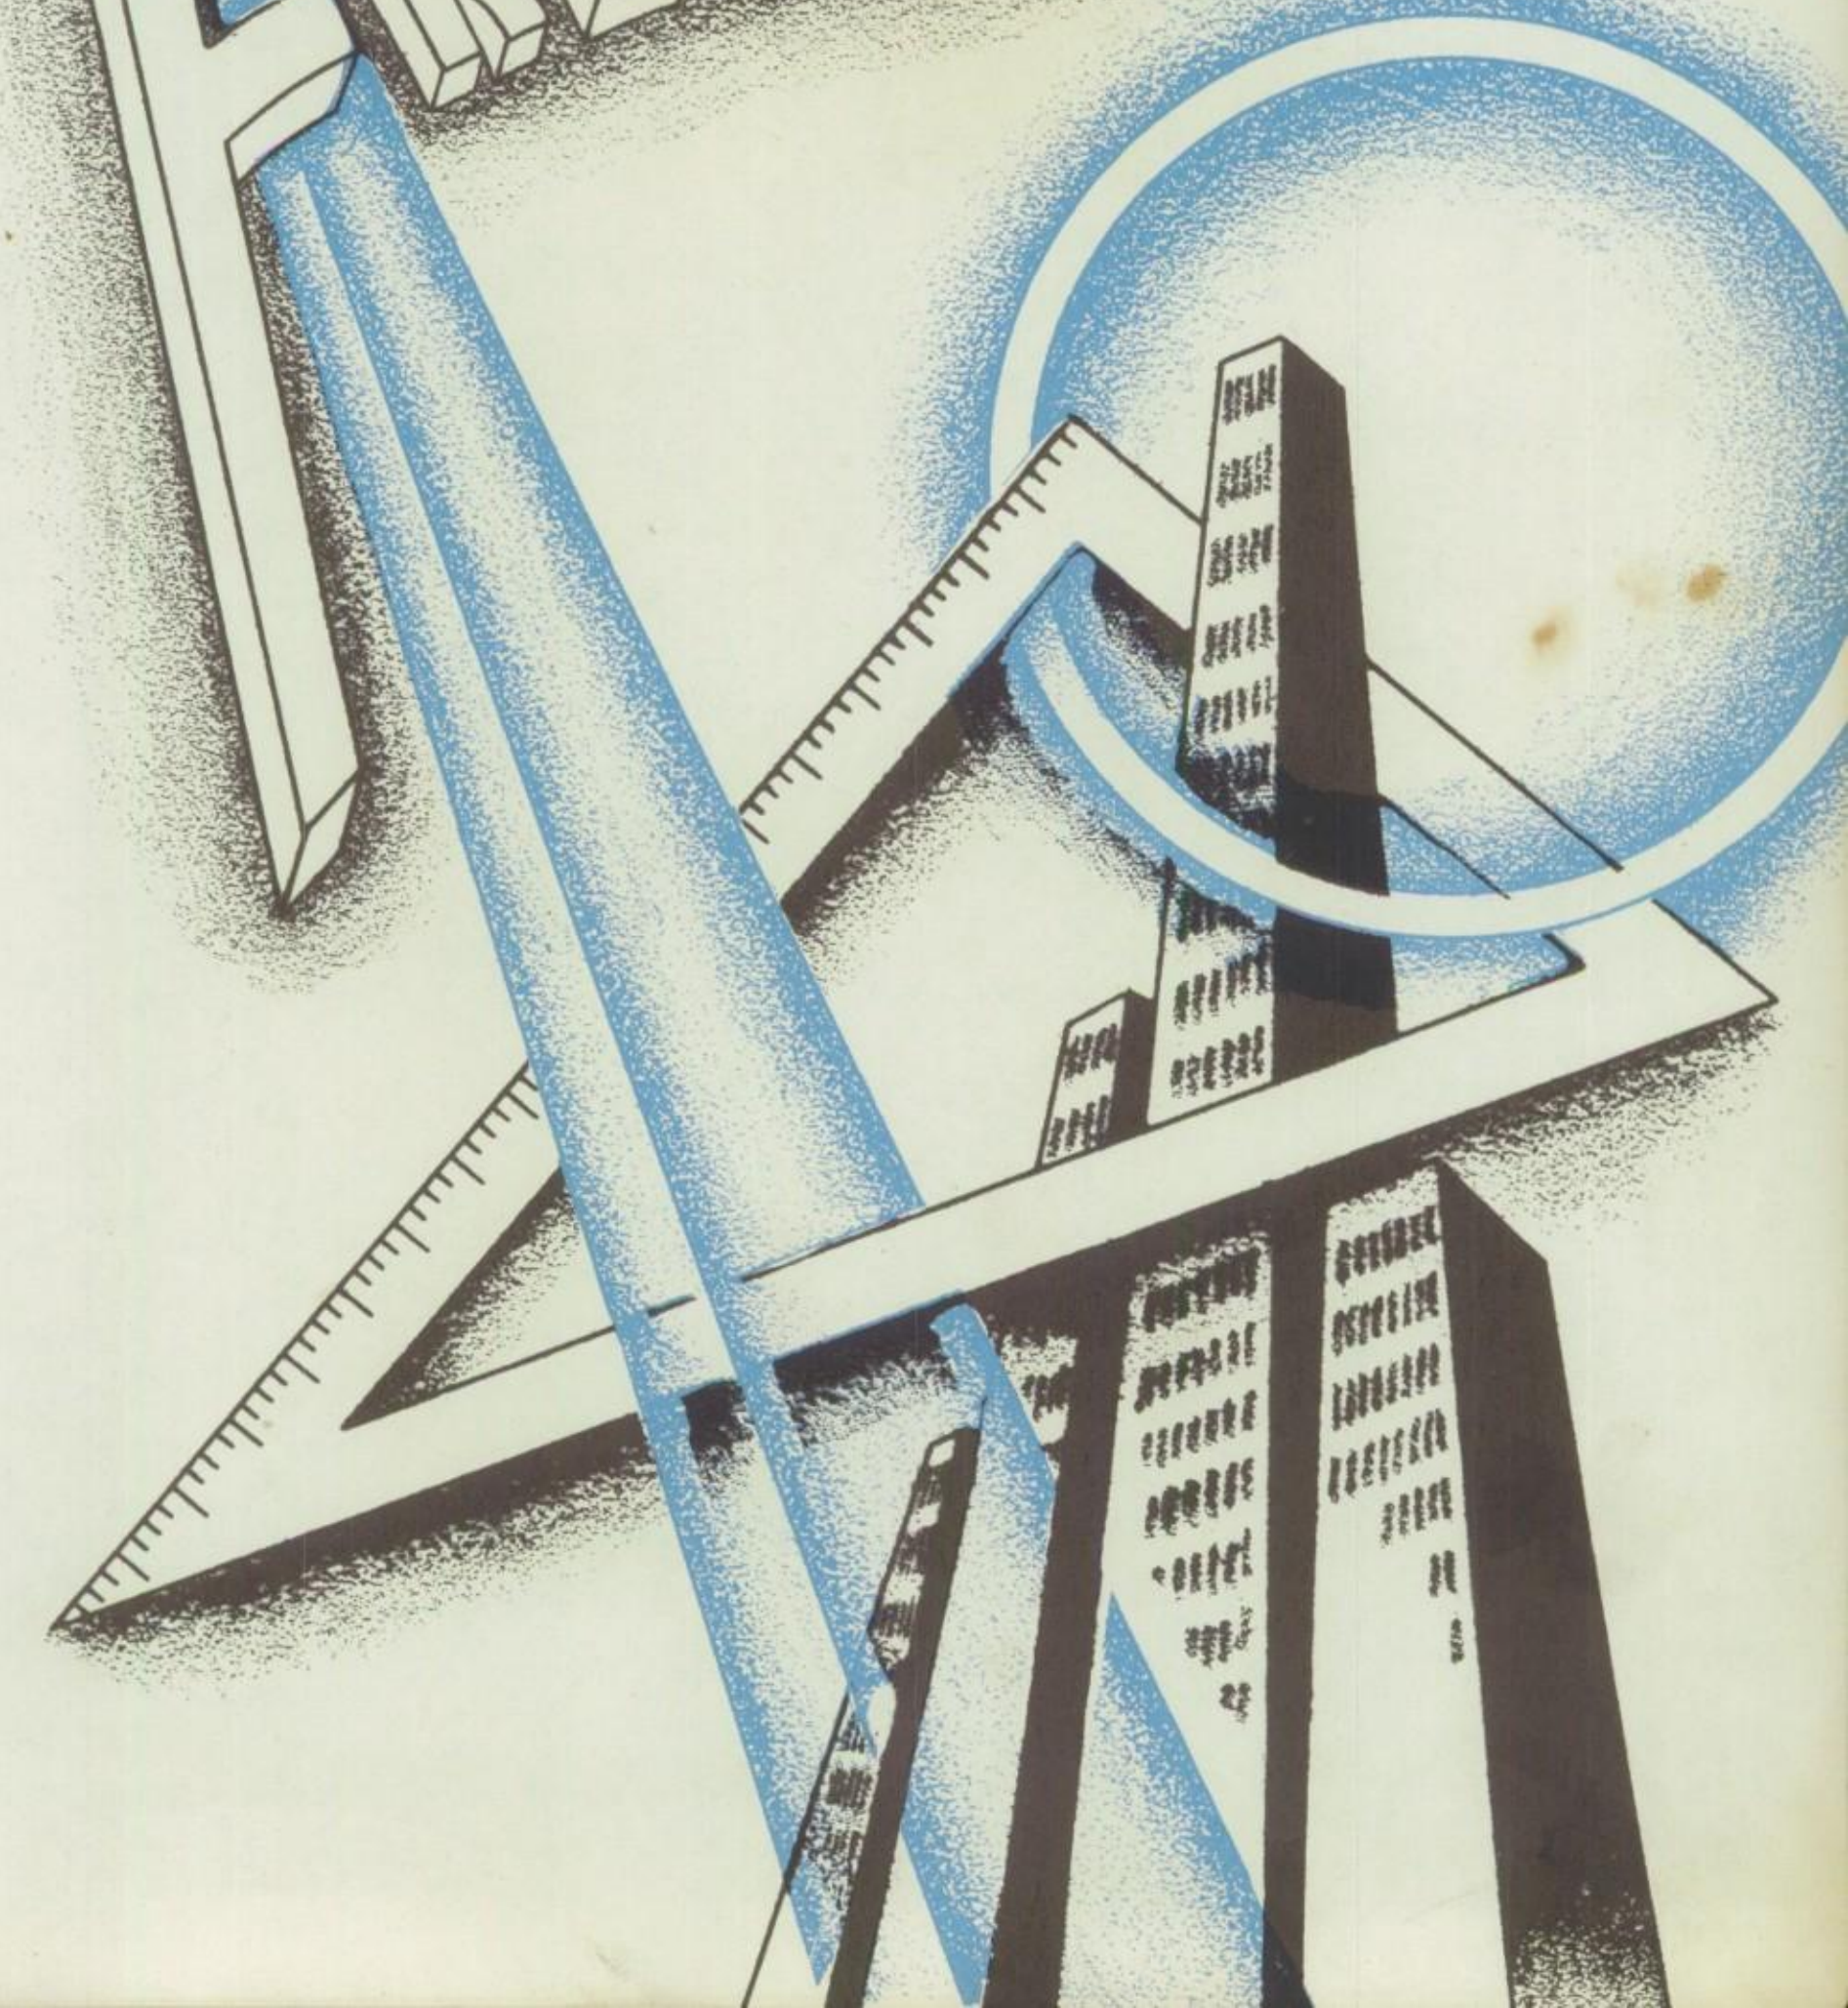

They began their sophomore year with the exception of Merrill Tollefson, Tommy and Eileen Dunford and Alton Christenson. Alvin Slama entered this year from the Milton high school.

The Sophomores have contributed their share to school activities by taking part in basketball, declamation, musical organizations and athletics.

Their officers this year are;

Pres.....Avis Rasmusson
V. Pres.....Leslie Rourke
Sec.-Treas....Betty Jo Delvo

BACK ROW--Emory Brezina, Betty Ann Rourke, Dolores Olson, Elizabeth Kram, Bernice Flink, Thelma Nelson, Adelene Lundebly, Marvin Vollum, Wilbur Johnson, Robert Barrie, Miles Sonstegaard, Peter Hanson.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

The Freshmen are credited with being the largest class in the history of O.H.S. There are twenty-four of them enrolled; eight of whom are entrants from outside districts.

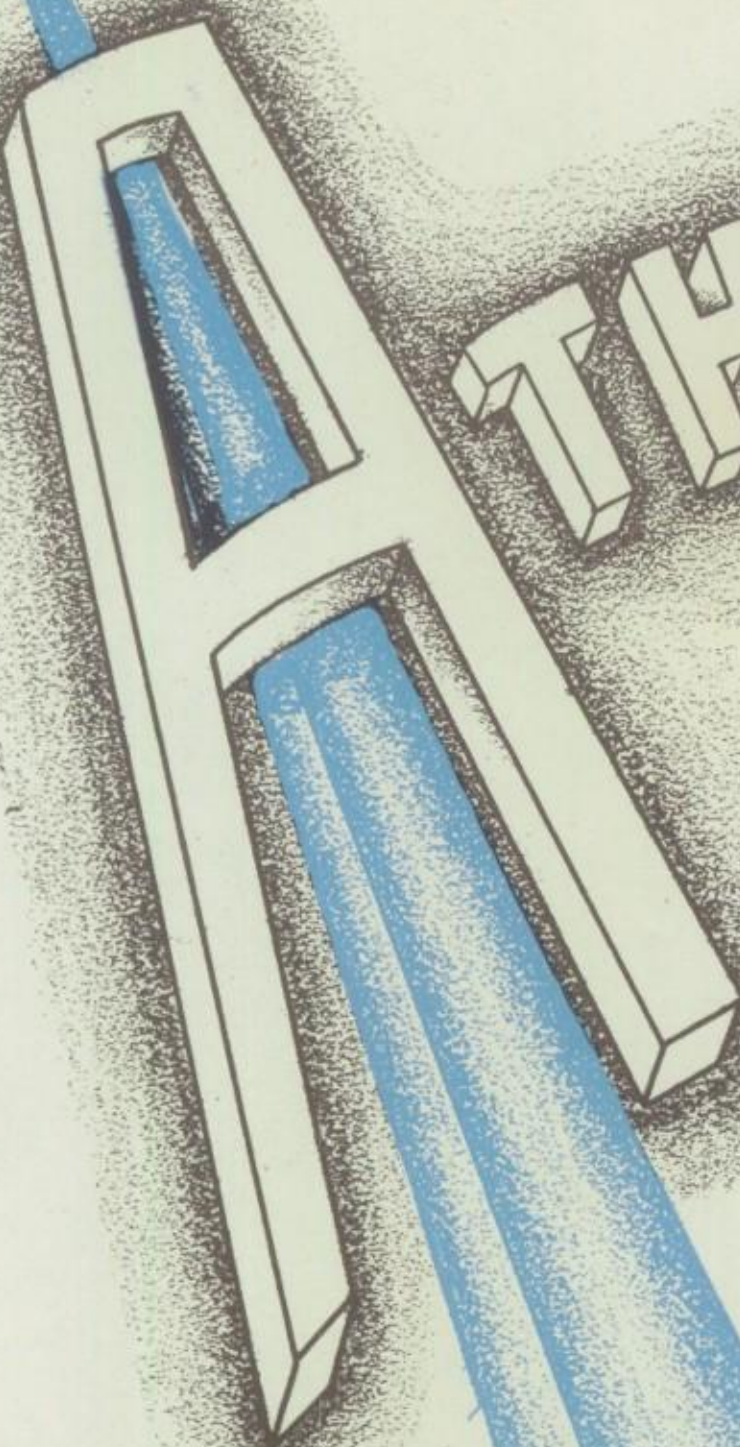

Following close on the heels of registration was initiation. The upper classmen weren't hard on them; although the girls did sweat a little all padded up in football uniforms. They looked comical to say the least and fulfilled their purpose--gave the spectators a good laugh. Some of the boys looked quite fierce in pirate outfits, and the rest of them made fine girls.

In return for the initiation party, the freshmen gave the upper classmen an entertainment May 3. A scavenger hunt was the main event of the evening.

The Freshman Class officers are:

BASKETBALL

Osnabrock High School's Basketball team enjoyed a successful season, but could not come through in the games that counted. Out of the twenty games played, the Orioles lost only five, two of which were to Class A teams. During the season they won from the County and District "champs" in both games.

Late in the season the team was handicapped by the loss of Warren Ward, whose knee was injured in the first Langdon game.

In the Cavalier County Tournament, the Orioles advanced to the semi-finals, with victories over Sarles and Hannah; but were then defeated by the strong Munich quint. In the consolation game we won decisively from the Nekoma Trojans.

Osnabrock drew a bye in the District twelve tourney, but were upset by Milton in their opening game.

Wendell Coles, captain, Warren Ward, Robert Balsdon, and Willard Christensen have finished their basketball careers for O. H. S. With five lettermen returning, prospects for next year look bright.

FOOTBALL

This year for the first time, six-man football was introduced in Osnabrock High School. The athletic fund purchased part of the equipment and the rest was donated by the University of North Dakota. Due to the fact that all the members were light and inexperienced the results were not so encouraging. Next year promises to be a better season. The football field was located on the lot east of the Henry Nelson farm.

TRACK

The track team for Osnabrock High School for the season of 1938-39 consisted of Warren Ward, Wendell Coles, Harley Nelson, Joseph Brezina, Howard Rasmusson, Ordean Tollefson, Joe LePire, Ivan Coles, and Jack Fahnlander. This was the "Orioles" first season in track for many years and turned out successful. In the meet at Langdon the team won first place and at the invitational meet at Michigan, second place honors were ours. A trophy was awarded to the "Oriole" team which won the relay race. On this team was Ward, I. Coles, W. Coles and Fahnlander. To end the season Coach Sitzer took the team to the district meet at Grand Forks in which they did not place. Howard Rasmusson took second in the half-mile, which was the only successful entrant from here.

JUNIOR PLAY

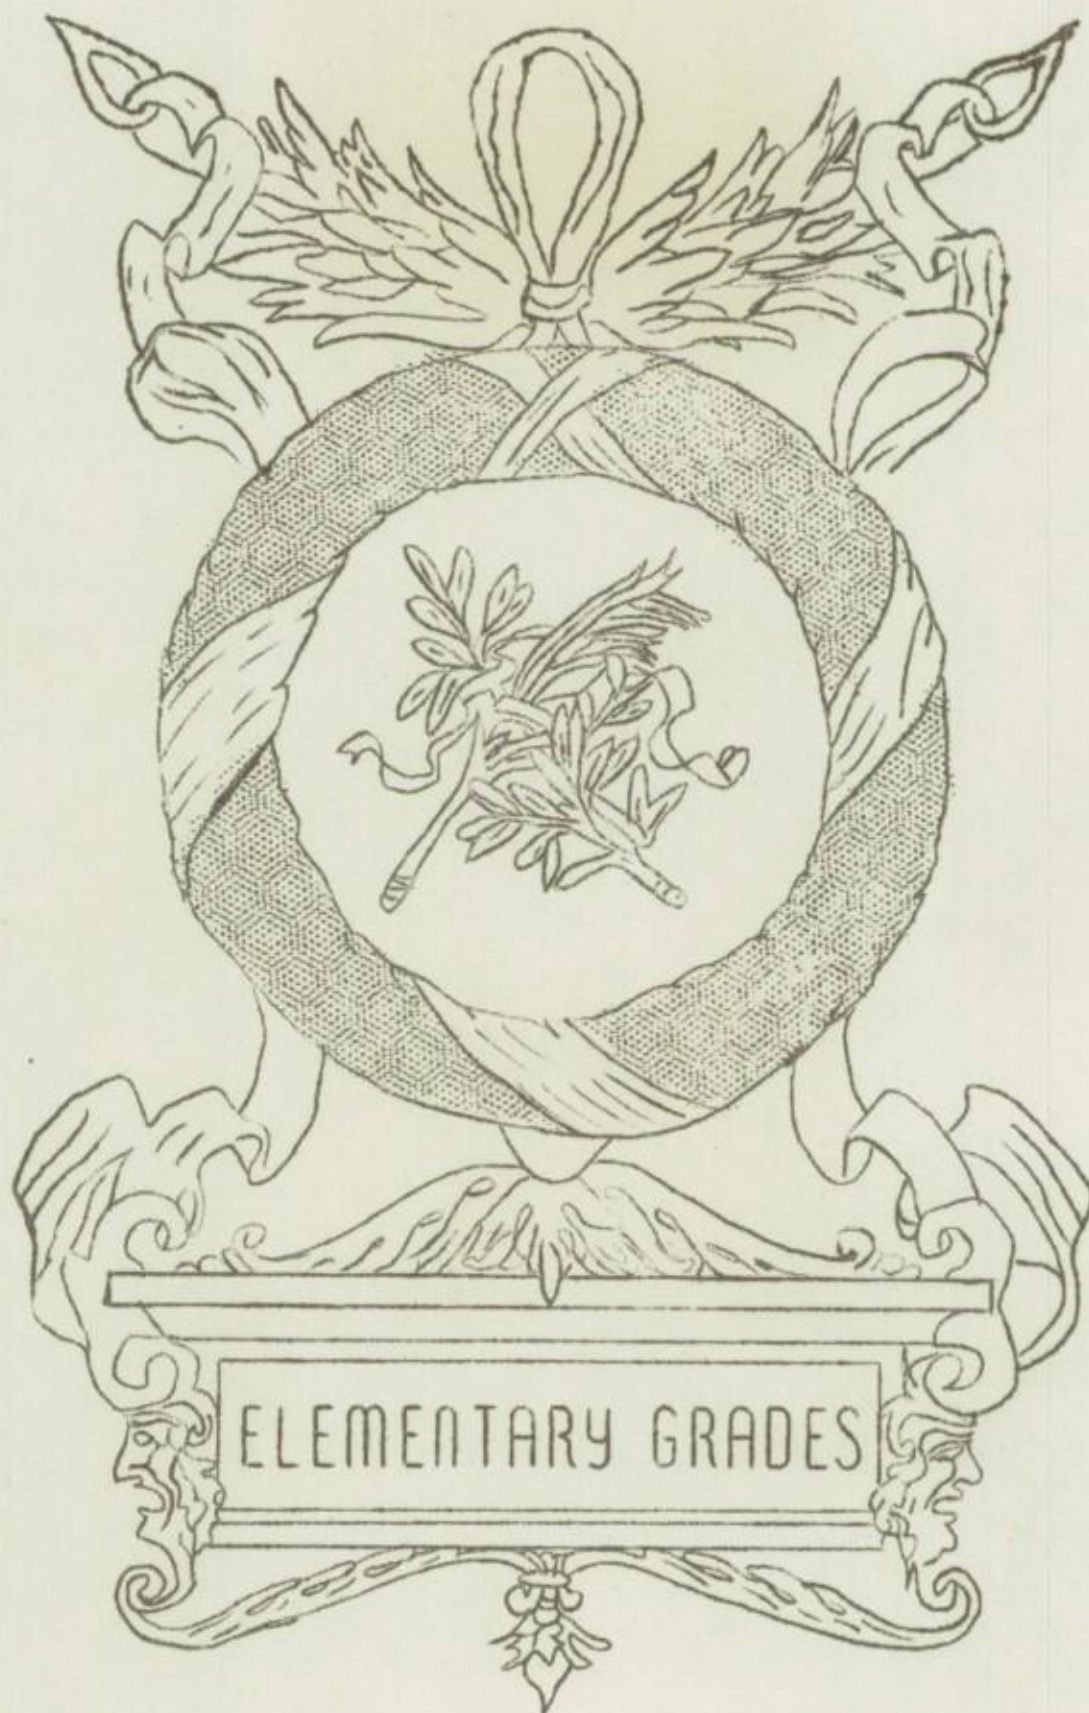

Under the direction of Jean Casement, "Antics of Andrew" was presented by the Junior class November 16. The cast consisted of Vivian Klai, Stanley Olson, Bill Fahnlander, Arthur Monson, Walter Vleck, Marjorie Nelson, Wendell Johnson, Willard Christensen, Joseph Brezina, Ordean Tollefson, Harley Nelson, and three members of the Senior class, namely, Betty Jean Smith, Betty Fahnlander, and Margaret Anne LePire.

GLEE CLUB

Under the direction of W. Dyce Millard, the Glee Club for 1939-40 was organized.

Music studied during the year was "Teach Me To Pray," by Jewitt and "Praise Ye The Father," by Bounod and Deis, used for Baccalaurate services; and "My Evening Star," by Santos, and "Lassie O' Mine," by Bowles-Walt, and "Dannie Boy," by Weatherly.

Members of the club include: Sopranos--Margaret Anne LePire, Betty Jean Smith, Alice Pearson, Marjorie Nelson, Vivian Klai, Doris Dahl, Mary Rachel Delvo, Anna Nelson, Donna Nelson, Lois Wedwick, Doris Fjeld, Dolores Olson, Alice Rusten Helen Dubourt, Elizabeth Kram, and Betty Anne Rourke; Altos--Vivian Lundebly, Ila Olson, Avis Rasmusson, Ella Rourke, Betty Fahnlander, Betty Jo Delvo, Clarette Lundebly, Florence Murray, Bernice Flink, Adelene Lundebly, and Thelma Nelson.

UPPER GRADES

On September eleventh, seventeen pupils entered the fifth and sixth grades to begin another school term. Willard Brusseau was the only pupil in the group who did not attend school in Osnabrock last year.

Parties were enjoyed by both classes on Valentine's Day and Hallowe'en.

At Christmas the grades joined together to present "The Christmas Bazaar". Gifts were exchanged by the pupils of both grades at a party held in the room.

Twenty-four pupils enrolled in the seventh and eighth grades at the beginning of the school term in September. Vernon and Ione Brusseau and Leland Berger were new students.

Both classes enjoyed their Hallowe'en and Valentine's Day with parties.

Gifts were exchanged at the Christmas party held in the room December 21.

The pupils in this room joined with the rest of the grades and presented "The Christmas Bazaar" as the annual program.

LOWER GRADES

On September eleventh, seventeen primary pupils started another term of school. Two new pupils who have entered second grade are: Gerald Beechie, formerly of Casper, Wyoming and Doreen Brusseau of Vang. During the school year Viola and Joyce St. Vincent discontinued school.

On Hallowe'en they had a party in their room. Games were played and lunch was served.

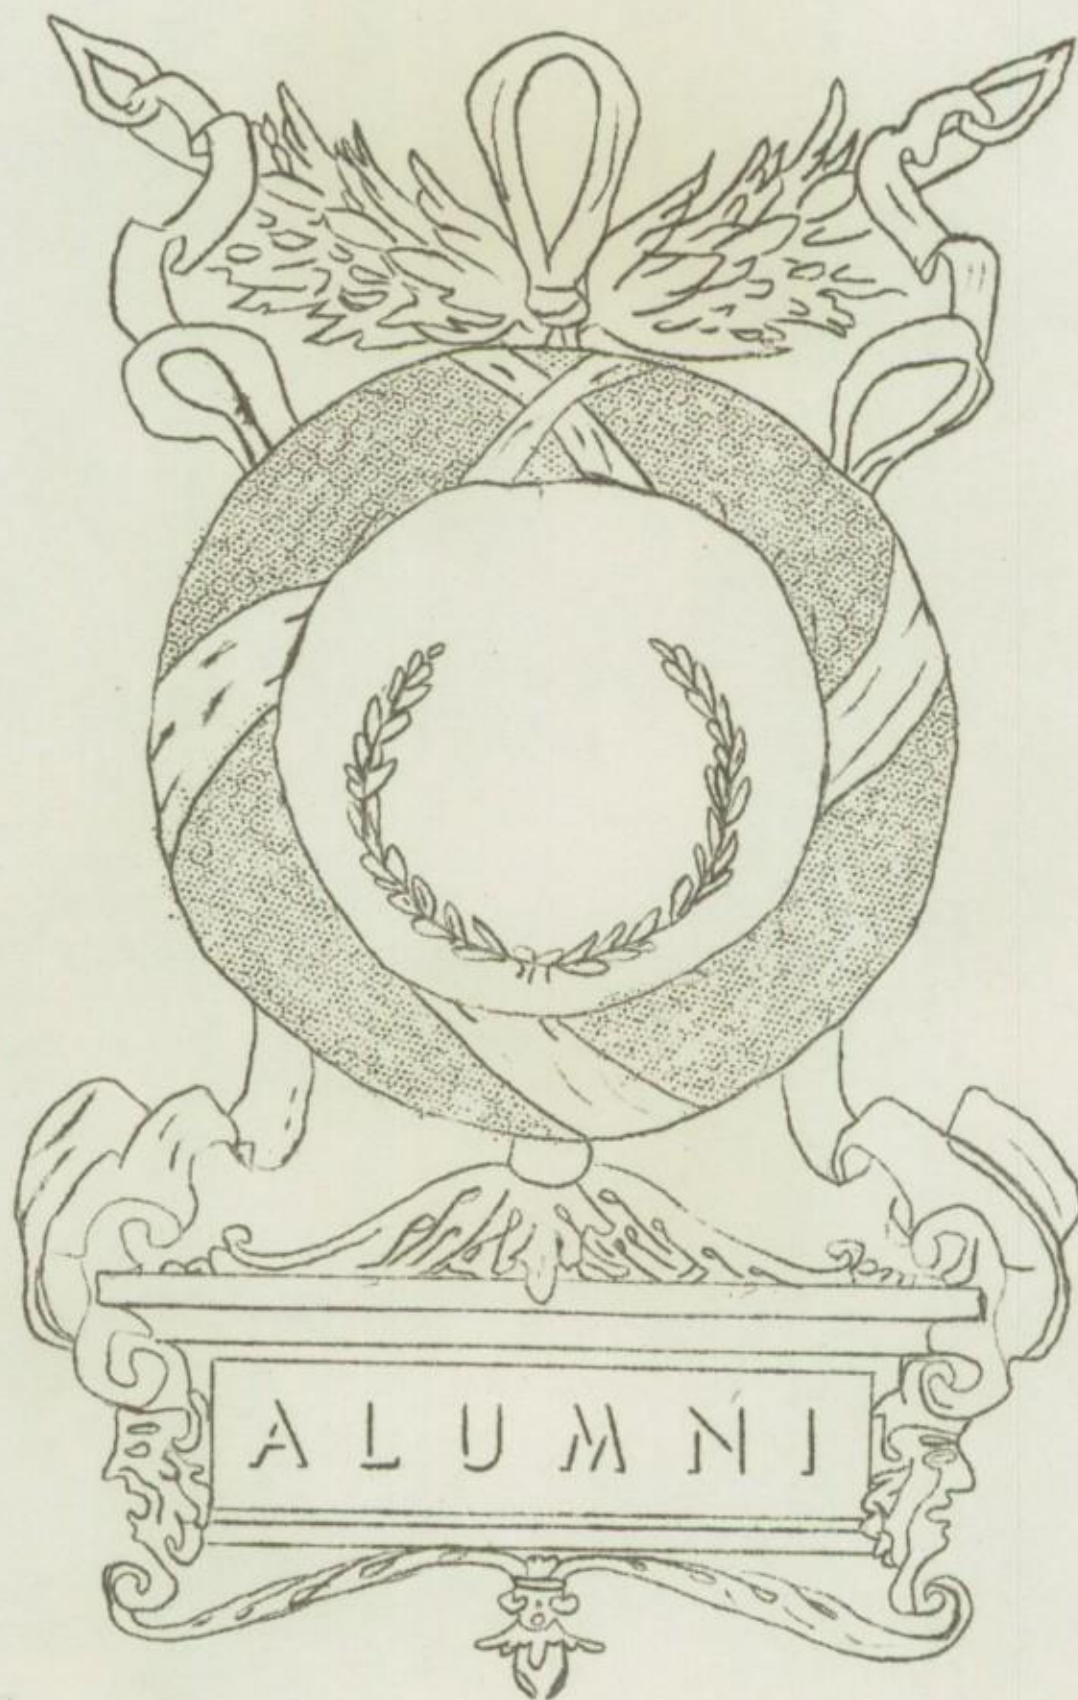

The Christmas season brought along with it a program, and the exchanging of gifts.

On Valentine's Day they had a party. Valentines were distributed and lunch was served.

Answering the roll call for the third and fourth grades last year were seventeen pupils. Olive Nelson, from the Wilder School in Grand Forks, joined the fourth grade the beginning of the school semester. Joseph St. Vincent, also a fourth grader, transferred to a rural school during the year.

A Hallowe'en party in October and a St. Patrick's Day party in March were greatly enjoyed by both grades.

TO OUR ARDENT SUPPORTERS

In every community there is a group of public-minded patrons to whose loyal support and generous contributions the success of all worthy enterprises is indebted.

We hereby thank the business men of Osnabrock and Langdon for their loyal support in this cause.

We have tried to give them full value for their money; if we have failed, may they remember that they have contributed to a worthy cause and that we sincerely appreciate their cooperation.
